Hobart Pacha and the Greek Steamer.

London, Dec. 19, 1898. The despatch from Paris last evening announcing the rumored sinking of the Greek steamer Eros at Syra by Hobart Pacha, the Turkish Admiral, is not officially confirmed. The latest despatches from Constantinople, dated yesterday, mention that Hobart Pacha, at the request of the French Admiral in the Archipelago, would await orders from the Turkish government before using coercion with the Eros.

The Eros Trouble—A Greek Demand on the Guaranteeing Powers—Banishment of Greeks From Bulgaria.

Paris, Dec. 19, 1898. The Moniteur today has the following details of the Eros affair:—The Eros answered Hobart Pacha's signal with a shot and immediately sought refuge in the island of Syra, where she was blockaded by the vessels of the Turkish fleet. Hobart Pacha announced his willingness to abandon the blockade on condition that the Eros should be escorted to Athens by a Greek frigate, and there to await the result of judicial proceedings for the outrage committed.

The following despatch has just been received, bearing date Constantinople, December 19:—The Greek ambassador, in this city, today demanded of the guaranteeing Powers the protection of Greek subjects in Constantinople. The French envoy on the part of his government declined to move in the matter. The Sublime Porte demands the banishment of all Greeks from Bulgaria and Belgrade.

The Greeks Urge a Delay of Action
Between the Two Countries—The Greek and Turkish Ministers Still at Their Posts—
A Revolt in Two Turkish Provinces Anticipated.

Paris, Dec. 19, 1898. It is said that the Russian government has sent a note to the French government in relation to the questions at issue between Greece and Turkey. Telegrams from St. Petersburg say that Russia and the other great Powers agree that both the Porte and Greece should delay action for five days, in order that negotiations for a settlement of the questions may be attempted. The Public (newspaper) says the envoys of Turkey and Greece have not left their respective posts at Athens and Constantinople. The Public says the naval commanders in the Pireus have been instructed, if they can help it, to avoid a struggle with the Turkish vessels, which could at present only weaken the Greek cause.

The same journal says:—The Athenians are exultant over a prospective war with Turkey, while the depopulations from Nauplia, Patros, Corfu and Corintha protest against the policy of the government as ruinous to Greece. The Athenians expect a revolt by the Greeks in the Turkish provinces of Thessaly and Macedonia. The latest advices from Athens state that the government of Greece has as yet taken no steps of a defensive character.

Correspondence of the Field.

Constantinople, Dec. 19, 1898. The Greeks in this city ask of the Porte the privilege of remaining here in case of hostilities between the two countries, agreeing to preserve a strict neutrality.

A corps has been organized and is ready to move to Greece at short notice. Turkey continues tranquil.

Effect of the Eastern Complications on the Money Market—Toss of the English Press.

London, Dec. 19, 1898. The utter inability of the Great Powers of Europe to control the action of Greece in the pending troubles with Turkey excites distrust in financial circles here, and there is a general falling off in all moneyed values. This distrust is only increased by the reassurances of the French press. Even if Russia is not in earnest in her remonstrance it is the general opinion that she will not be able to give Greece any material aid.

The press of London generally unite in urging the great Powers to a final remonstrance with Greece to prevent the occurrence of war, and if that is rejected to leave Greece to her fate.

The Johnson and Laird Fraternization. LONDON, Dec. 19, 1898. John Laird, member of Parliament for Birkenhead, publishes to-day the correspondence he had with Reverdy Johnson, showing the origin and course of the friendship that exists between them. Mr. Laird himself made the first advances towards friendship in October last, long before the Liverpool banquet. Mr. Laird invited Mr. Johnson to Birkenhead to see his establishment and to hear his (Mr. Laird's) wishes for a lasting peace between England and America. Mr. Johnson, in his reply, regretted that a lack of time would prevent his acceptance of the invitation, and added the following words:—

Notwithstanding your sympathies with my Southern brethren during the late war, I shall have much pleasure in making your acquaintance and hearing your sincere wishes for peace.

The London Times on Reverdy Johnson's Policy. LONDON, Dec. 19, 1898.

The Times this morning, in commenting on a speech recently delivered by Reverdy Johnson at the Birkenhead Institution, says that the sum of Mr. Johnson's policy is that truces must not prevent the preservation of peaceful relations between England and America. The paper hints that the American obstacles in the treaty should, therefore, be withdrawn.

Reported Rising in the West—Santiago Still Besieged—Insurgents Salute a United States Steamer.

Havana, Dec. 19, 1898. A revolutionary demonstration is reported to have occurred in the West, and the fact that 400 troops have been suddenly sent to Colon, the principal shipping port of the Vuelta de Abajo, tobacco district, seems to confirm it.

From Santiago we have advices to the 11th. The condition of affairs there remains unchanged. The reinforcements are anxiously expected. The insurgents on the heights saluted the United States steamer Penobscot with twenty-one guns.

Havana, Dec. 19, 1898. Generals Espinar and Latorre, with 350 soldiers, arrived today in the steamer from Spain. General Espinar will relieve Valmaseda and General Latorre will command the Reconquista in the West.

A Spanish officer, who had been taken prisoner by the insurgents, made his escape from Bayamo. He reports that a Spanish major and a captain belonged to the garrison, who refused to capitulate, had been executed; that other officers had been put in irons, and that the soldiers had been set to work cleaning the streets of Bayamo, which was destitute of provisions. Bayamo was defended by but few men, nearly all the revolutionists being in the field.

The insurgents continue in the neighborhood of Manzanillo.

Rumors have reached here of engagements between the troops and insurgents in the vicinity of Holguin, Santiago de Cuba and Bayamo.

Tragedy in Charlotte—A White Man Shot Twice by a Negro in a Mayor's Court and Afterwards Killed by a Negro Policeman—Intense Excitement Among the Citizens. RALEIGH, Dec. 19, 1898.

While a white man named Gleason and a Negro named Dunlop, were being examined by the Mayor in the morning for a dispute, the latter drew a pistol and shot the former twice, inflicting mortal wounds. Gleason, the wounded white man, then ran and in passing from the door was struck on the head by a negro policeman named Schenck and instantly killed. The radical chief of Police censured Schenck because he did not shoot Gleason and another white man. Both the negroes are now in jail. The affair has created intense excitement and it is not improbable that the jail will be broken open and the two prisoners lynched.

The Trouble With the Peruvian War Steamer Havana Still Unsettled—Instructions From Secretary McCall—The Peruvian Monitor Still at the Bell.

New Orleans, Dec. 19, 1898. The steamer Havana (or Maracaibo) is again in trouble, the Collector having threatened to detain her on the ground of violation of law in not exhibiting proper papers when they were called for, and that the changing of her flag was irregular. The facts are as follows:—The vessel was purchased in New York by the Peruvian government, her owners contracting to deliver her at Southwest Pass, or wherever the Peruvian monitors might be. Upon her arrival at Southwest Pass the transfer was made, the Peruvian flag hoisted and her former captain retained as sailing master. Her American register was sent to New York for cancellation. Señor Garcia has been notified by her former owner that the register was cancelled, it was not intended to bring the vessel to this city while lying at Southwest Pass, repairs to her machinery became necessary, and she came here under the Peruvian flag, and has since been the victim of official mistakes, having even been the cause of a misunderstanding between Minister Garcia and Collector Fuller. Yesterday officers boarded her and demanded to see her papers. The captain replied that the vessel belonged to the Peruvian navy, but that he had no papers to exhibit, and referred the officers to Minister Garcia. The latter, who had been notified by the collector in reference to the matter, though he notified the customs authorities that the Havana belonged to his government and of his readiness to answer any charge against her, while she was in the harbor, he had no papers to exhibit. Had she remained at the Southwest Pass no notice would have been taken of her arrival. The collector, however, insisted that the vessel was in violation of the law, and that she should be detained until she had the proper papers. The collector, however, insisted that the vessel was in violation of the law, and that she should be detained until she had the proper papers.

To-night Secretary McCall telegraphed to Collector Fuller to be governed by the collector's orders, and to inform him that Secretary Seward had charged of the question of non-compliance with the laws by the Havana.

General Espinar and Latorre, with 350 soldiers, arrived today in the steamer from Spain. General Espinar will relieve Valmaseda and General Latorre will command the Reconquista in the West.

Horrible Outrages by the Militia—They Take Possession of the Town of Lewisburg—Stores Fired—A Citizen Murdered and His Body Burned—Citizens Desires for Peace—Arrest of a Prominent Radical.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 19, 1898. A special despatch from Little Rock to-night states that the following has been obtained from reliable quarters:—

On the morning of the 16th four companies of militia, commanded by Colonel Gray Williams, from Ross and Matthews counties (the latter colored), entered the town of Lewisburg, shooting in every direction, and marched to the store of Bream & Cozy and set fire to it after pouring coal oil on the roof. Howard & Wells' store was also burned, and Mr. E. A. Swess was saved from being burned to death by great exertion. During the progress of the fire Mr. Casey was shot down, his pockets rifled and his body thrown into the flames. The town is still occupied by the militia, who are shooting and shooting through the streets. No one is permitted to leave the town without a pass.

All is confusion. It is said that the prominent citizens prevented an attack on the militia, fearing a misrepresentation of the affair would be circulated abroad. The people are suffering interference of United States troops in their behalf.

A meeting was held in Batesville to-day, which was composed of all parties. They declared for peace under any circumstances, and they will support the civil authorities. They desire that other counties may hold similar meetings.

The anti-secessionist movement, a prominent radical in Independence county, by General Ephraim, at Augusta, in a charge of encouraging secessionists in the militia, creates some sensation.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons at St. Lawrence Hall.—Mrs. Scott-Siddons made her first reappearance as a reader last night at St. Lawrence Hall, for the benefit of the New York Ophthalmic Hospital. She was greeted by a large and highly selected audience. The programme included selections from "As You Like It," a portion of Tennyson's "Lady Vere de Vere," portions of "Macbeth" and Henry the Fifth's coronation. In all of these Mrs. Siddons displayed an ability as a reader so as to secure the hearty endorsement of the critical audience assembled. Her rendition of "As You Like It" was particularly excellent, and the sleep-walking scene in Macbeth was given with the most telling effect. In King Lear, Mrs. Siddons showed her versatility and her command of the selection surprised many of her warmest admirers. Of Mrs. Siddons, powers as a reader it is unnecessary to say anything. Her selections last night were very happy, and the impression which she made upon the audience has been highly satisfactory to her.

IVINS HALL.—Mrs. Jesse Knaprock's Concert.—This popular music hall has seldom been so crowded as it was last night when the above favorite concert took a benefit. There were a host of artists and pieces in the programme, and the concert was a great artistic success. From the programme we make a few selections as the most striking. Mrs. Kempton, who has been for a week past confined to her home from a severe attack of illness, appeared on the stage, and her sympathetic contralto voice more satisfactorily than last night.

THE NEW YORK OPERA HOUSE.—"The Popular Tomy" made a very successful and profitable "Four Round the World" last week, illustrating his extraordinary adventures by a fine panorama. Larry Mago, the Irish carman, will doubtless continue to attract large audiences, while Johnny Thompson, T. G. Riggs, Miss Leary and Miss Schell will continue to give the firmament of Tomy's Opera House. The bill of fare last night was very good, but it is to be regretted that the orchestra was not up to the mark.
